GUIDELINES FOR ASSESSORS

ASSESSOR INFORMATION

People credited with this unit standard are able to use adult teaching and learning theories and frameworks to facilitate learning sessions for diverse adult learners.

This document is intended as a guide to support assessors. It is expected that assessors will use these materials, together with the unit standard document, as a tool to develop their own assessments in a way that is relevant to the context in which their assessment occurs.

Assessors and candidates need to be familiar with the outcomes being assessed by the unit standard. The outcomes, evidence requirements and explanatory notes contain information, definitions, and requirements that are crucial when interpreting the standard and assessing candidates against the standard.

AWARD OF CREDIT

This unit standard can be awarded with an Achieved grade only.

ASSESSMENT REQUIREMENTS

- This assessment will take place over a timeframe set by the assessor.
- The assessment will involve four different observed and documented learning sessions:
- Each learning session must be at least 30 minutes in duration.
- The four different learning sessions must, between them, cover a minimum of six individual adult learners.
- Learning sessions must involve real situations as relevant to a candidate's own teaching context. They must not involve artificial situations created for assessment purposes.

General Information

- This unit standard has been developed alongside others to align with and support the New Zealand Certificate in Adult and Tertiary Teaching (Level 5) [Ref:2993]. For an outline of how the relevant unit standards provide a pathway to this qualification, please refer to the landscape document.
- Candidates completing this unit standard will be directly involved in training adults and will have an education or training role in which they have direct access to learners. Types of organisation and roles may include but are not limited to: polytechnics and institutes of technology, private training establishments, community organisations, corporate and workplace training programmes, and district health boards. Candidates are responsible for organising access to training opportunities.
- A candidate who has already completed learning session designs for Unit 29689, Design and prepare adult learning sessions for a variety of contexts, may use the same designs for this unit also.
- Prior to this assessment all candidates must have had sufficient training opportunities to become familiar with adult teaching and learning theories, and how they can be applied in specified teaching contexts.
- The assessor will hold an appropriate adult education qualification (see CMR 045). The observer will have appropriate skills and knowledge.

Definitions

Adult teaching and learning theories refer to models and philosophies that create positive learning environments for adults in different learning contexts. Different learning contexts may refer to different physical settings (including workplace/industry specific), approaches to facilitation, or learner profile.

Effective Candidate is the person who is being assessed against this standard.

Effective learning interactions involve learners actively participating, collaborating, and interacting in the learning session. They are distinctive from presentations in that learning is facilitated through interaction.

Embedded Literacy and Numeracy refers to the explicit teaching and learning of literacy and numeracy within the context and tasks within another, usually vocational, subject or skill. It involves developing learning sessions to match the needs of the learner with the literacy and numeracy demands of the training programme and uses interactive activities. Specific examples of interactive activities include:

- Teaching quantities and ratios in hairdressing by using everyday items and demonstrates how these can be divided.
- Extending vocabulary in a subject area using card sorts.

Engaging learning sessions means that a positive, culturally safe, and inclusive learning environment is created and maintained through building, managing and monitoring effective learning interactions.

Learner is the person who is taught/trained by the candidate.

Learning session is a learning or training event that can be part of a course or programme, but has its own internal coherence in terms of outcomes and subject matter coverage, and is sufficiently discrete to be able to stand on its own.

Stakeholders refer to learners, as well as the tutor/trainer, provider, and/or client organisation(s).

Ethical and Legal Behaviours

Candidates must act professionally, ethically, and with cultural sensitivity during assessment against this standard. This will include compliance with relevant legislation and organisational requirements. Legislation, with any subsequent amendments, may include the:

- Health and Safety at Work Act 2015,
- Privacy Act 1993,
- Human Rights Act 1993,
- Copyright Act 1994
- Vulnerable Children Act 2014.

During the assessment, assessors must also ensure the following:

- All professional discussions undertaken for assessment purposes remain confidential
- Health and Safety is observed at all times in assessment tasks

Possible assessment tools

There are a range of possible assessment tools that could be used for assessing candidates against 29691. These may include recording/documentation of:

- Written answers
- Documented professional discussions
- Reflective log/comments
- Learning session plans
- Learner feedback sheets
- Observation sheets for learning sessions.
