Guiding Principles/Ngā kaupapa o te tohu

Whanaungatanga

This kaupapa highlights the importance of Māori cultural values, te reo Māori, tikanga and kawa, in establishing quality relationships between tāngata whaikaha and whānau; and hapū, iwi and hapori; disability, health, and social service providers; and other key stakeholders. Whānau are supported as the principal source of enablement for many tāngata whaikaha.

Kaitiakitanga

This kaupapa refers to the skills and knowledge needed to support the protection, maintenance and strengthening of the mauri, mana and tapu of tāngata whaikaha and whānau, through the delivery of culturally appropriate, effective, and timely disability, health, and social services; as well as equitable resource allocation.

Pukengatanga

Pukengatanga refers to the specific knowledge and skills that derive from mātauranga Māori to support tāngata whaikaha and whānau, and their access to disability services. This kaupapa highlights the importance of keeping abreast of new knowledge and technologies, and places a high priority on enabling good lives for tāngata whaikaha and their whānau.

Tūrangawaewae

This kaupapa highlights the importance of connection to whenua, people, kawa and tikanga for tāngata whaikaha and their whānau. Māori diversity and disability experience is acknowledged and supported in collaboration with tāngata whaikaha. This seeks to enable tāngata whaikaha to engage in roles within their whānau, hapū, iwi and communities of choice; and to have their aspirations supported.

Rangatiratanga

This kaupapa acknowledges the importance of practitioners and tāngata whaikaha, and their combined knowledge, skills, and experience to plan and access quality and effective Māori disability services. This includes knowledge of kawa and tikanga, use of te reo Māori, demonstrating positive behaviours based on kaupapa Māori principles, and meeting legal and ethical requirements in a professional manner. Rangatiratanga in this context ensures tāngata whaikaha and their whānau have greater personal leadership, choice, and control over disability supports accessed.
